

Esmeralda Aguilar

There are no net positives that would happen if the data center were allowed to be built. In a time where we are draining reserves in the southwest to make sure that people have enough water to survive, I cannot think of a worse use of our limited resources. Even if this facility did create new jobs, the jobs would be short lived and unsustainable. I strongly opposed the approval of this application.