

N/A N/A

Most teenagers in this day and age lack ambition or motivation to do anything because most of us know that there is no point in planning ahead since, thanks to the rise in climate disaster machines such as Project Jupiter, we have no future. If this project is allowed to continue, the small amounts of hope held by the youth of today will be well and truly crushed.