It is unnecessary to build more AI data centers, AI is not only ruining our ecosystems but also our brains and the essence of being human. We are letting AI take over us one way or another and we cannot let this keep happening; if we were once so good without AI why do people depend so much on it now? We do not need more AI than there is, in fact we don't need AI at all, it's just the lazy people and millionaires who depend on it, if we let this continue happening humans ourselves will bring us to our own doom, to our own extinction, and I can assure you, we will first go extinct in our essence of humanity than in the physical form of humans. We will go extinct but not before drowning all the animals before us. We need to remember the land was first the animal's and not us, and we need to respect that boundary.
