

Tanya Pacheco

I am strongly opposed to the data center being proposed in Santa Teresa or anywhere in New Mexico. Data centers require too much water to be sustainable in the desert without risking the people and ecosystem that exist here. They also cause detrimental effects on the air quality. There is no amount of profit that makes either of those things worth it to me as a resident.