We the people want a better future without any harm to us or the planet we live on but with project Jupiter that wont give us the future we want instead it will harm the environment and harm every single thing in it. We don't need planet Jupiter to survive but we do need our planet and everything in it to survive and so do the wild life who have long been here before us and have suffered so much because of us but with each step our future takes we seem to keep making the wrong steps and damaging what is supposed to be our home and our only resource to live. Even though we have made terrible choices doesn't mean we can't turn back and make them better, our planet already suffering doesn't give us an excuse for us to make it suffer more.
