

Sydney A

We don't want data centers in New Mexico! We are already experiencing water shortages and don't need anything to do with this! The community needs more time and resources to fully understand the implications of what it would mean to implement Project Jupiter. I am confident that if this decision was put in the hands of community members who were well-educated in this subject, Project Jupiter would absolutely be rejected.