

Forrester Faia

You should reject the permit for this data center as New Mexicans are already suffering from water shortages. Care about the people, not the AI. We can wait until there are better options for cooling at a larger scale for these data centers. When there is more legislation and regulations on how they are built. At the current moment, it puts human lives at risk. Reject their permit and help save New Mexicans water