

Anonymous Anonymous

I do not live near the area, but I have friends who do and are scared for their future--everyone's future. I have not put enough research into this construction to provide statistics of its detriments, but it does not take much reading for someone to realize. This already fragile community may crumble from the construction's continuation. Please reconsider.