

Kole Gonzales

i live in colorado and we're already in a drought along with many other united states. building a data center this large will be polluting and a waste of scarce water. i can't afford to live in a world like this with plenty of diseases that affect my daily life already. i want a chance to grow up, stop these centers before you destroy the earth on your own accord if these wars don't get us first; absolutely unacceptable.