

Christopher Ciepluch

I dont see why we need more data centers. We dont need more artificial intelligence we need less. If people rely on things like chatgpt or gemini to do things for them than they will not build the skills themselves. A.I. is only not a reliable source for information because it can and has been wrong in the past.