

Amelia Johnson

In a state already plagued by drought and an environment showing the detrimental effects of warming, building a data center that will use our water and pollute our air puts all of our communities at risk. The profits of this project will not stay in our state, the harmful aftermath of it will. Say no to Project Jupiter.