

Anonymous Anonymous

Not necessary to build power plants everywhere, specially when it's said to have the ability to ruin the natural habitat. Maybe should focus on building people a favorable condition to live in rather than build a power plant in a place where people can not even earn enough to buy groceries.