Do you not worry about your own future? Your children's future? Each generation we wish nothing for the best for the next, creating a better world for them. Allowing the air permit would deny a joyous future. There is another way of doing this without taking this damaging shortcut, please, find that way and take it. Millions are worried, we see what is happening around the world, it's becoming harder to live, to survive. We do not need another struggle. Please understand that I, and others, hope for a better world, for everyone, no one is excluded from it, but in order to do that, we need to work together, we need to fight for the good, to voice our concerns and denial about certain situations. Especially when it comes to our environmental concerns. We only have one earth, we are not moving to another planet to destroy it too. You want to keep this planet, to keep it healthy. Your grandparents did, your parents did, your children want the same and so do your future generations. Please deny their permit. Let the air be without sickness.
