

L Cornell

Please deeply reconsider one of the most destructive systems you are placing in an important natural biome. The cost of this loss if it was to happen would be unfathomable ecologically and for our shared future. I urge you to reconsider this grave error. Do better please as leaders of a country with rare wildlife and environments.