

Scott Folkman

These data centers are not widely supported by the public and needs more time for public comment and debate. Approval of the permit should be denied and a longer comment period should be allowed.