

Isabella Bonura

I vehemently oppose this entire project, I truly feel our land is being taken advantage of. The little resources we have should go back to the communities here, not billionaires trying to profit from our land. This will put such a heavy burden on our state, they are dishonest about their agenda and are creating fraudulent support for it. We need to conserve what we have for us, and our future generations.

The first step is by denying the air quality permit. If it is open information that Bloom Energy illegally dumps waste, we should not be burdened with it. Not only this, but the data shows it would create a massive amount of air pollution for this state.

If you decide to go through with the permit, I am positive plenty of community members will have something to say about it.