

Anonymous Anonymous

I find this a major issue, since this will take the land, water, and energy the younger generations will need. If we dont take action now, and we let greedy CEOs take over every single resource, our children will die of starvation, dehydration, or illnesses due to lack of life saving resources. I do not wish death on another generations, so i urge you to not build that data center, as this might be a moment of no return.