

Estevan Whiting

I am lifelong New Mexican resident in Albuquerque in the city. I was born into 25 years ago is not the city/ state I know now, the rivers are dry and the snow packs are nonexistent. It is a fact that Data Centers such as project Jupiter increase heat temperatures in regions they are placed in and the state or southwest region cannot be sold out like this to the ultra rich. Watching my future be decided by the few is what's most scary, and knowing all I do to try to mitigate the consequences is undone by the few who get a say and can be lobbied, and bought out. Our country and state of New Mexico cannot be ran as a business and we should say no to data centers in our state and stand up for the people of New Mexico who will be directly impacted by project Jupiter and the hellish future it will bring.