

Dustin Hodge

No. No no no no. Data centers (which will likely go unbuilt, underutilized, or abandoned, btw, so we won't get any of the professed benefits) in an already dry desert that promises to get dryer as the climate changes is an absolutely terrible deal for New Mexicans.