

Leonard Romero

On the flip side? Where are you going to retrieve the water from? How much will you use daily? Weekly monthly, yearly? The under ground water table? Rio Grande? The millions you are paying for construction? Helping schools? Jobs? How many. The education needed to be hired? What happens after construction? 4000 jobs gone? $360 million for schools? Every year? Or spread out over 40 years? What will the cost be to run yearly? How are you going produce your own power? The water issue is the most important question!!!! Is the state voting on this opportunity? I really do hope they deny you. You should try overseas in the rainy part of the world.?!?!¿ How will you repair? Upgrade? Improve our vital water infrastructure?¿ What resources are you offering for schools? Services programs? Please respond¿ Convince me that it's good for new Mexico¿ I want the positive & negative impact. Don't bull shiiiit me with a sales pitch or political shit. Be transparent.

Sincerely,
Leonard Romero Leonard R
