Dear NMED, Here is a question I ask you today. If you were to travel to another planet what three things would you bring from Earth. You probably said water, right? That is how valuable it is. So valuable that you would put in your list of top three things you need to survive. Now, I want you to think about going to the bathroom and not having water in your sink, shower or toilet. Not having clean water to drink when you feel dehydrated. This may not be happening to you now, but it will happen. Think about the children of your children. Do you really want them to ask you when was the last time you saw clean water. Or when was the last time you've breathed fresh and pure air. When they ask you that you will stay silent because you decided to approve the Project Jupiter. But not only this, this project will also affect YOUR lungs and the way YOU breathe for how much it will affect our air and environment. This comment comes from a young girl in Europe who instead of worrying about her exams, is worrying about the planet. We need to protect our water and we need to protect our air in this time more than ever. I hope you take this message into consideration. Thank you

"The public should be given an additional 60 days to review and comment on the air quality permit so community members can participate equitably.

The air quality permit application should be denied outright given Bloom Energy's history of illegal dumping hazardous waste. Approving this permit would be government-sponsored environmental racism directed at residents of Doña Ana County.

If the permit is not denied outright, a public hearing needs to be held in Santa Teresa, in both English and Spanish, with an option to participate virtually."
