

anonymous anonymous

why would you try and take away water from here when the rio grande dried up before summer?
don't take water from where people and animals use to survive. please remember water is limited.