

Raquel Herrera

As a New Mexican homeowner, I oppose the building of project Jupiter because of its impacts to an already strained and fragile environment. Their impact "reports" are inconsistent, and from what we've seen in other parts of the US, data centers hurt local communities more than help.