

anonymous anonymous

I live in a city where they're planning on putting a data center. It's the most terrifying thought. I couldn't imagine what a power plant that requires at least one million gallons of water everyday does to not only the surrounding area, but the planet as a whole. It's just not necessary. There is nothing that can come from this but a power grab and the destruction of so many lives and ecosystems. The damage we've done to our planet is beyond comprehension, and if this permit of environmental racism is approved by the government, it will solidify that it is beyond repair. As such, I ask that the public has 60 days to review and comment so all parties can be as informed as possible. If the permit is approved, hold a public hearing in Santa Teresa, in both English and Spanish, with an option to participate virtually. This needs much more discussion, and should have never been an option in the first place. I pray for the people, land, animals, and environments that may suffer from this injustice.