Although Project Jupiter seems like a good idea by bringing in new jobs to New Mexico, this project harms the environment by taking water that is already scarce. The Rio Grande is at its driest than it has ever been, and Project Jupiter will worsen that. Our people will run out of water for the sake of AI and profits. Project Jupiter is simply incomparable in worth, and the people of New Mexico depend on clean water, which should not belong to AI data centers in the first place.
