

Gabrielle Seeman

New Mexico is already a very dry area with little water. Adding an AI data center could easily worsen this and would be completely unnecessary. I strongly believe that we don't need anything AI here.