

Abigail Romines

This whole project should be denied, but for now, we all need the air quality permit to be denied and went away with. If that doesn't happen, a public hearing should be held in Saint Teresa with ability for both Spanish and English translations. If this permit is approved, it's blatant racism. Government sponsored racism. Do you understand how horrible that sounds? The air quality is already not up to standards and this project will just make it worse, and worse. No matter the new kind of tech, no matter all of it, the people will still be suffering. Think about the water usage, the greenhouse gases effecting the world if this goes forward. The waste flowing into the water, food and plants of the communities. The cancer causing chemicals. The air is already bad, this will make it purely cruel and unnecessary to the people made to live here. Don't go forward with this, deny the permit, save the communities.