

Anonymous Anonymous

I respectfully express my opposition to this project based on concerns regarding its environmental sustainability. The potential risks it poses could result in long-term damage to our ecosystem, which would ultimately impact not only our planet but also all living beings who depend on it for survival. It is important to consider that while Earth can thrive without human presence, humanity cannot endure without a healthy planet. Read that again.