

Sarah Herbert

I oppose Project Jupiter. Its anticipated groundwater use threatens already overstressed aquifers that communities, farmers, and wildlife depend on for survival. Introducing heavy industrial activity in an area facing chronic drought risks accelerating water scarcity and undermining regional sustainability.