

Elisha Weisman

There is no reason that New Mexico should approve this project with the majority of the water in the Rio Grande being used by Colorado Hatch barely has enough water each year to finish the growing season let alone providing clean water for the community. Without greater education and accurate assessment of the water use and proof that this won't disrupt the community resources for healthy living this should be shut down without question. Please take the people into consideration instead of the stock holders of a multi billion dollar industry who do not give back or even provide jobs for our lively hood. Please stop the Jupiter Project!