Hello. I wish to stay anonymous, so I will not be giving out any personal information about myself. Still, I wish to be a part of this protest for the world and the people. With all the changes in the world, coming so quickly and unpredictably, I find it hard to believe that anyone out there would not want to be safe than sorry. But I was wrong, there are in fact a lot of people that are willing to take the risk. This project is a perfect example of this. Everyone (should) knows by now how serious the environmental issues and impact matter to not just one country or two, but everyone equally. If you let this project happen, you will not just be harming Mexico, but the world around you as well. The ecosystem of our planet is so very delicate, so complex and beautiful...please don't disrupt it. I urge you to not let this happen. Any way of pollution should be avoided at all costs, and no matter how many people will gain jobs or/and money with this, it's not worth the risk of Mother Earth finally giving out. There is no second chance, we only have now. Once the limit is reached, there is no going back. Money won't save you, neither will power. Give these people a chance to review. Let them comment on it, let them decide what happens by their land. Specially with all the illegal waste this company has dumped, it should certainly be taking into consideration when approving and discussing the project. I beg of you to not just think about yourself. Yes, the selfish live longer. But will it be worth sticking around with nothing left? All are equal, and everyone should have a voice. Specially the ones affected. It's not too late to turn back, it's not too late to change. If you won't do it for yourself, do it for them. With concerns, _____

The public should be given an additional 60 days to review and comment on the air quality permit so community members can participate equitably.

The air quality permit application should be denied outright given Bloom Energy's history of illegal dumping hazardous waste. Approving this permit would be government-sponsored environmental racism directed at residents of Doña Ana County.

If the permit is not denied outright, a public hearing needs to be held in Santa Teresa, in both English and Spanish, with an option to participate virtually.
