

Kandace Donaldson

I drive past our empty river twice a day, and it scares me every time. Building a data center when we do not have water for our residents is unacceptable