

Jasmine Gordon

AI data centers have already taken millions of gallons of drinking water in the span of months. This is not okay and it will be worse in the next 20 years. We need to start loving saving the planet as much as people love to destroy the planet.