

Dennis Tapley

We all "know" the results of nuclear poisoning and do not wish to see those results being transported on New Mexico roads, nor stored in New Mexican caverns.

We know that plutonium was not included in the original permitting process, so that attempts to override or bypass or ignore the original permitting process will, of a certainty, ignite a series of delays which are not profitable.