

Drew D

I think we have enough radioactive material in the ground underneath New Mexico. I think it's time to stop permitting more to be placed there. It's time that other states take their share of the military's radioactive waste. We don't have to be the nations dumping ground forever.