

Richard Ferrary

I have personally toured the WIPP facility. While I was impressed by the level of professionalism and precaution, it remains a potentially hazardous project. I support your agency's efforts to ensure that New Mexico's land, air, and water are protected to the greatest extent possible. Those organization like CVNM whose mission is to protect the environment should be listened to regarding additional protections.