

Debra Efroymsen

I was horrified to learn that radioactive waste is being stored in unmarked drums under a big tent out in the open, in a fire area. It is incredibly irresponsible for DOE to store legacy waste in a way that threatens the health and safety of New Mexicans and others, as well as their property.

The proposed permit modifications are essential. DOE is not fulfilling its LEGAL agreements, and the State of New Mexico must force them to prioritize properly stowing the legacy waste.