

Lynda Buckley

Save our air!

Strengthen environmental regulations for concrete batch plants, which combine raw materials such as sand, water and cement to make concrete. Residents who live near the plants have complained about air, noise and light pollution.

Prioritize the health of Texans.

Take into account the overall health impact of living near multiple concrete plants and required operators to report their emissions to the state- better yet, have a third party do the testing for us!
Thank you.