

Kim Zavala

Yeah ,ive gone back and forth in my early 20s from nyc to txs, and everytime I return the difference in air from dirty nyc to Houston has been decreasing. It is appalled to know that the clean crisp air of my hometown is becoming no more and is also affecting those with respiratory problems such as myself.