

yolanda clem

Inspection fee has remained unchanged since 2005. A rate increase to at least $26 is justified for the service providers to retain certified inspectors. Labor costs have doubled in the last 10 years. Also, material and overhead have increased significantly. Inspection stations need a price increase to offset significantly higher labor, materials and overhead costs.