

Greg Lambert

hays county seems clueless on this subject, San Marcos is the city that should be looking into the matter, with students there are 120,000 people in this small town