

steven yarbrough

rates on emmision test should be raised as for the cost of everything goes up it is time for this to go up we have to maintain the machines and make sure they work properly so we should be able to charge more to help with that