

Anonymous Anonymous

The community is already struggling enough without the state implementing higher fees to line their own pockets. Then you turn around and get rid of the most important part of the test which ensures safe vehicles on the roadway. The emissions test literally takes 5min and you want to charge more money. Make it make sense. Sounds like greed to me. Have a nice day. This bill does not have my support.