The inspection test fees should atleast be $50 for it to make it a business worthy solution for inspection station operators.

I can't hire anyone for less than $20/hr and the amount of schedule hazard I go through needs a dedicated service advisor that needs to be paid $20/hr as well. I can barely do a full inspection in 45 minutes.

I understand it's a minimum safety that state wants to mandate but if the pricing doesn't make business sense I rather not do state inspections at my shops.
