

Troy Strege

I feel the safety part of the inspection is more critical than emissions side of things. Also with the increase of the monthly lease of the machine has gone up employee wages has increased but not the price of the state inspections. No real reward for the stations. Also have gotten bad reviews over people being upset for the laws and regulation pertaining to the inspections.