

Mary Alvarez

Charging fees for the pollution created by those companies that are responsible for it, and who are enjoying huge profits from the products that they are making, is just about the most absurd notion that has been proposed in recent history.

Vote NO to this gift.