

Julia Hunt

I am writing in support of adding the requirement for 4 hours of Ethics every 3 years for renewal of all public water and wastewater system operator licenses. Operators are faced with making decisions on behalf of water and wastewater systems which impact the health and safety of the public. The recent operator violations discovered in Nueces River Authority are an example of why ongoing ethics training should be required of all operators. Providing education and guidance will give operators additional skills in ethical decision making.