

Deborah Liddell

Stakeholders (residents and businesses) desperately need best practices along with oversight and audits to insure San Jacinto does not fill in with sand from sand mining (which contributed substantially to previous flooding in Humble, Kingwood and other areas during hurricane season Harvey. We desperately need controls on sand mining, otherwise these sand mining companies must move out.