

Therese Coles

This proposed mine will be disastrous for the region. We don't have the resources to support such an enormous extraction site. We must protect these beautiful areas not only for current populations but for future generations. These companies have a terrible track record of destruction to local communities only to be left for us to clean up when they take the profits and run.