

Michaele Chapman

Thinking of anything that is even remotely good, healthy, holy, fair, and just, how could you even consider tailings within half a mile of an elementary school! Is your profit that critical? Is it more important than human life, especially lives of young people?